

The futile effort to read Francis G. Newlands out of the Silver party was concocted and worked by the same persons and element that manifested their treachery to the party by their opposition to Mr. Newlands, their eagerness to trade every candidate on the State ticket wherever and whenever a vote could be gained for a Stewart legislative ticket. As Mr. Wallace remarked to Major Huffaker, "Stewart was his only fight," and he proved the sincerity of his utterance by his work during the entire campaign. But for the treachery of the Stewart combination Reinhold Sadler would have received at least two hundred more votes in Washoe county, Sam Davis would have made a far better showing and in fact every candidate on the State ticket would have left Washoe with a considerably increased vote over that contained in the election returns from this county. Information from other parts of the State clearly demonstrate that the treacherous methods were extended to other sections, and there exists no shadow of doubt that "Stewart was the only fight" of the element which now seeks to place the ban of ostracism upon the head of the man against whom, more than anyone else, the treacherous work was directed. A futile attempt was made to implicate Mr. Newlands in interference with the proceedings of the Republican State convention, but this has been exploded by Mr. Sharon's challenge to any or every member to come forward with the assertion that he or any other friend of Mr. Newlands, or Mr. Newlands himself, ever approached him either directly or indirectly upon anything pertaining to the proceedings of that convention. On the other hand, there is abundant proof that Stewart's political manager did approach members of that convention with the promise that if they would nominate for Congressman any one of three men he would name, Silver party or Southern Pacific aid would be forthcoming to insure his election. Failing in this, there is also abundant proof that the Stewart horde rendered all of the aid possible in the matter of electioneering, pecuniary contribution, and votes, to the Populist candidate with the view to the defeat of Mr. Newlands. In the name of common sense and all that is fair and decent in politics, we would ask if that is not more than sufficient to warrant the ejection of Stewart and his gang from the councils of the Silver party or any other party that is on the face of the earth? And yet these double dyed traitors, reeking as they are with treason, not only to Mr. Newlands, but to every candidate on the State ticket, have the superlative gall to demand the expulsion from the party of a gentleman who was induced by it and by the people two months ago, because he chooses to exercise his privilege as an American citizen and a citizen of Nevada, to become a candidate for a position in the place of a man who was repudiated by both his party and the people at the same time! We can recall no parallel, approximating such monumental, and audacious assurance than the 150,000 gold bug Democrats who voted for Palmer and Buckner, gravely proceeding to read William Jennings Bryan with his more than six million of supporters out of the Democratic party!

Mr. Stewart's political manager did not hesitate to assert during the campaign to Democrats and Republicans that the election of 1898 would terminate the existence of the Silver party in Nevada. He said the contest in the future would be between the old parties. We know that he intimated to Democrats, that he and his forces would be found in the ranks of the Democracy, and we have been credibly informed that he gave the assurance to prominent Republicans that two years hence he would be ranged under their political banner. At all events he will not deny that he repeatedly asserted that there would be no further use for the Silver party after the late election, and we leave it with others more discerning than the JOURNAL, to explain why there is any necessity for expelling any one from a party which he had himself dissolved by private if not public proclamation. Mr. Newlands, as the JOURNAL understands, is not in favor of the disbandment of the Silver party. Be that as it may, he has manifested no disposition to abandon it and will remain with it as long as it maintains an honorable existence. As for Stewart, whether elected or defeated, he will have no further use for the Silver or any other party in Nevada. If elected for six years longer, his interest will cease in Nevada politics and it will matter nothing to him what becomes of the parties in the State. He will be able to devote his entire time and energy to the interests of his corporation constituency and he will not be likely to bother his mighty brain about anything else. He will probably, in some leisure moments, smile when he recalls the duplicity of the people of Nevada, and gloat over his treachery to the Silver party in 1898, and perhaps laugh outright when he remembers how audaciously he accused his principal victim of the crime of treason in the face of the overwhelming evidence of his own guilt.

A number of the New York volunteers who arrived from Honolulu a few days ago passed through here yesterday morning on their way home.

The Silver Knight-Watchman under its new management will advocate "every plank in the Chicago Democratic platform of 1898, without any modification whatever." In this it will be a striking contrast to the attitude of its former editor, Senator Stewart, who forced the Silver Party State Convention to tear into fragments the platform of William Jennings Bryan and more than six million of bimetalists in the United States, with the additional assertion that the name of the party which formulated that platform was obnoxious to the people of the State of Nevada.

Never Cast an Honest Vote for Silver.

The Times-Review copies the correspondence between Chairman Gilling of the Democratic State Central Committee and Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, relative to Colonel Chinn's mission in Nevada, and says:

So much for the claims of the Stewart press that the great silver leaders in the East are watching the outcome of the Nevada Senatorial contest with bated breath and fear that the greatest Roman of them all should be repudiated in the cradle of the silver movement. Bah! They know, as does every true Nevadan, that Senator White of California was correct when, on the floor of the Senate, he told Stewart that he represented no constituency but the Southern Pacific Railroad. During the campaign it was hurled at him time and again that he never cast an honest vote for silver during all his Senatorial career and not one of his paid supporters have ever had the temerity to refute the statement. Senator Stewart is nothing more or less than the hireling and tool of a gold-bug corporation which did everything in its power to defeat Wm. J. Bryan in 1896, and will do so again in 1900. His master, Collie P. Huntington, will allow him to spout silver in Nevada, but knows he will vote for gold as he did in 1873 when the pinch comes.

Stewart's name never appears in any of the councils of the recognized leaders of the silver movement. Why is it? There is no doubt in the minds of those who are acquainted with Stewart's methods that each and every letter claimed to have been written to certain obscure individuals in his behalf by eminent Senators and Representatives were either outright forgeries or procured by the same means as servant girls get recommendations when their services are no longer satisfactory to their employers—simply to get rid of them.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelain. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

High Class Comedy.

The manner in which "Uncle Bob" was performed by the Daniel Sully Company at the Opera House last night was a treat to theater goers. The humor and pathos depicted by Mr. Sully in the character of "Uncle Bob" caused both laughter and tears in the audience, who followed every detail of the play with breathless interest. To give a full account of the entertainment would be a task to please a critic. Rarely does it happen that Reno is favored by a visit from such a company as this.

Unprecedented Sales.

How To Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alternative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at S. J. Hodakinson's Drug Store. 50 cents per bottle.

Titles For Sale.

The only state in which the sale of nobiliary honors is open and legal is, strangely enough, a republic—the tiny Italian republic of San Marino, of the existence of which many are unaware. You can get a title in San Marino on application—and payment of the fee, which is not always the same for the individual honor—and the proceeds are used for the support of the national founding asylum. You have the satisfaction of knowing that you have performed an act of nobility, but you will get little more than that for your money. San Marino distinctions do not count for anything outside the state and for but little within it.

Rarest Bird.

To find the rarest bird in existence you must go to the mountains between Anam and Loas, where there is a certain kind of pheasant. For many years its existence was known only by the fact that its longest and most splendid plumage was in much request by mandarins for their headgear. A single skin is worth $400, and the bird living would be priceless, for it soon dies in captivity.—New York Journal.

A Strong Combination.

"Your mother agrees with me exactly, Johnny," said his father, proceeding to trim the twigs from a tough switch. "She thinks with me that you need a good thrashing, and you are going to get it, my son." "Yes," bitterly exclaimed Johnny, "you and man always agree when it comes to licking me. You and man's the whole thing. I don't never have no show. This family's run by a trust!"—Chicago Tribune.

His More Durable Costume.

The tall savage seized the newspaper which the waves cast upon the tropic strand and eagerly perused it. "Clothing," he exclaimed, coming to the advertisements, "is as cheap as dirt!" "But not so durable," urged the stout savage, who was notoriously inclined to be benighted, not to say reactionary.—Detroit Journal.

Amicable Adjustment.

"I want you distinctly to understand, Emil, that when your colleague's wife has a new hat I want one too." "Calm yourself, my dear. We've settled it between us. You're neither of you going to get one."—Fliegende Blätter.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE

The Organization of the Nineteenth Session.

AN ARMY OF CANDIDATES.

The Usual Stir and Scenes that Precede a Session of Nevada's Solons.

All day Sunday the excitement and anxiety of those closely connected with the organization of the nineteenth session of the Nevada Legislature as manipulators or candidates was of a character verging on desperation. The Stewart and anti-Stewart lines were closely drawn and the wavering or vacillation of a weak or stubborn member claimed by either faction was sure to cause a stir. Both sides were working like beavers to control the organization.

Up to a late hour in the afternoon both claimed the two branches of the Legislature, and doubts and fears were to be encountered on every hand. The organization on Senatorial lines was dropped and the basis was finally established on party lines. This indicated almost a positive organization in open house; then other tactics had to be resorted to and the barter of positions or other prestige was made an object in securing the support of members on one side or the other.

Caucus hours were named and canceled again and again, but finally there were enough signers on the calls for a caucus of each house to secure the organization on a silver basis, and both branches met at 8 o'clock in the evening in secret caucus to name the officers and attaches for the present session.

The result of the caucuses is as follows and the names here presented:

THE SENATE.

President pro tem., Senator Ernst of Nye.

Sergeant-at-Arms, George Easton of Lander.

Secretary, George Osborne of Lincoln.

Assistant Secretary, Frank Folsom of Ormsby.

Minute Clerk, John Conesidine of Storey.

Journal Clerk, Miss S. M. Hjul of Eureka.

Enrolling Clerk, Miss Comenski of Lyon.

Copying Clerk, S. A. Woodward.

Committee Clerk, H. Allerman of Douglas.

Messenger, Harry Gill of Ormsby.

Pago, Master Gavin of Ormsby.

Porter, Richard Savage of Ormsby.

Mr. Conboise of Storey was not sworn in and will not be until the impending contest for the seat of Mr. Lord is decided.

An appropriation bill for $32,000 was passed.

THE ASSEMBLY.

Speaker, Lem Allen of Churchill.

Speaker pro tem., H. H. Coryell of Elko.

Sergeant-at-Arms, D. Able of Humboldt.

Chief Clerk, N. W. Roff of Washoe.

Assistant Clerk, W. T. Virgin of Douglas.

Minute Clerk, N. W. Willis of Lyon.

Journal Clerk, D. Morton of Lincoln.

Engrossing Clerk, Dora Sheehan of Elko.

Enrolling Clerk, J. J. Lucy of Eureka.

Copying Clerk, Mrs. K. Meffley of Lander.

Committee Clerk, Miss K. A. Murphy of Esmeralda.

Messenger, C. Cirac of Nye.

Porter, O. Bane of Ormsby.

At 12 o'clock noon the Senate and Assembly were called to order respectively by the acting Governor and President of the Senate and Secretary of State Howell. There was no hitch or objection to the program of the majority by the minority.

Assemblyman Hodgkinson of Washoe arose from his seat and in a few well worded remarks, stated that the minority did not care to object or delay the proceedings of organizing, but in order that they might voice their sentiments as Republicans they would place in nomination a Republican for the principal office in the Assembly, and while casting their votes for him, they did so purely from a party standpoint and not from any feeling or disloyalty toward the majority or the candidate for Speaker proposed by the controlling element of the body. He then presented the name of Mr. McMillan, a member of the Storey delegation. The ten Republicans cast their votes for Mr. McMillan, while the Silver men voted for Mr. Allen. The two candidates were excused from voting, as were also Mr. Dooley and Mr. Pitt. Mr. Paul of White Pine, an independent, voted for Mr. Allen, and Mr. Bradshaw, of Humboldt, a Silver man, was absent owing to sickness.

The remainder of the list of officers and attaches were read as presented by the Silver caucus and was ratified.

The Senate passed the legislative appropriation bill and both houses consumed the day's session in oiling up the wheels of the legislative machinery previous to commencing active work.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST

Still goes on, but the fight is quieter, the determined efforts at controlling the organization having cooled down to a more studied and careful canvass of the situation and its possibilities.

Hook Mason is a new Senatorial aspirant and says he is in to stay. Much speculation is indulged in as to the outcome and the fight promises to increase in interest before the end of the week. All sides have their war paint on and the smaller contingents watch the larger, keeping an eye out for a chance to get in and score. It is believed the fight will wax warm the last of the week and up to next Tuesday, when the first ballot will be taken.

Outside of the above there is little stir in Carson and hardly an incident occurring of passing notice.

STEWART'S RAILROAD RECORD.

Resolutions to be Submitted to the Silver State Central Committee.

Mr. Comins of White Pine county has announced his intention to submit the following at the meeting of the Silver Party State Central committee to be held next Thursday.

WHEREAS, the Silver party of Nevada, did in its party platform of 1894, declare as follows, regarding the Central Pacific Railroad debt:

We demand the collection of the indebtedness of the Pacific Railway companies to the United States, as it matures, without any extension of time, or change of terms or conditions, and

WHEREAS, such declaration was repeated in the platform of 1896 and was binding as an instruction from the people of Nevada and the Silver party, to the Senators and Representatives of the State of Nevada, and

WHEREAS, in violation of such platform, Senator William M. Stewart did cause himself to be placed upon the Committee of the Senate for the settlement of the debt of the Central Pacific Railroad, and did become the earnest and energetic advocate of the extension of the time of such debt and the variation of its terms, and

WHEREAS, after repeated failures to pass the funding bill, an amendment was offered, extending the time of the payment of the debt 10 years, in 10 annual installments, with a reduction in interest to 3 per cent, and

WHEREAS, such amendment was ruled out of order upon the objection of Senator Wilson of the State of Washington, as not being germane to the bill, and

WHEREAS, said Senator Wilson withdrew his objection, stating that he did so at the urgent solicitation of Senator Stewart of Nevada, and

WHEREAS, it is to the interest of the State of Nevada that the Central Pacific Railroad should be run as an independent line in connection with the Southern Pacific Railroad, and

WHEREAS, the combination of the Central Pacific Railroad and the Southern Pacific Railroad, under one management, has been with a view to turning all the trans-continental business to the Southern Pacific Railroad, and for the purpose of diminishing the efficiency of the Central Pacific Railroad, and

WHEREAS, it is to the interest of Nevada that the Central Pacific railroad should be a live line instead of a dead line, and the foreclosure of the mortgage upon said line would have opened up the purchase thereof to competitive bidding, which would have released it from the control of the Southern Pacific system, and thus have turned it into a competitive line, the owners of which would be interested in increasing its business and thus building up the varied enterprises of Nevada, and

WHEREAS, the action of Senator Stewart has continued the control of the Southern Pacific over the Central Pacific line, and has placed the entire State under the perpetual bondage and control of the Southern Pacific system; now, therefore,

Resolved, that the action of Senator Wm. M. Stewart was in violation of his obligation to the Silver party of Nevada, and an act of disloyalty to the people of the State of Nevada, meriting the severest condemnation, and therefore, be it

Resolved, that Senator Wm. M. Stewart be denounced as an enemy of the State of Nevada and a person dangerous to society; and,

WHEREAS, the Hon. Francis G. Newlands did, by his vote and speech, vigorously oppose the amendment funding the debt of Southern Pacific railroad.

Resolved, that the thanks of the Silver Central Committee of the State be extended to Mr. Newlands for his vindication of the interests of Nevada and for his faithful observance of his obligation to his party and to the State.

States and elected at Lange & Schmitt's.

MORE MISTAKES.

Importation of Gun-Fighters Will Injure Instead of Help Stewart.

In Nevada Ante-Bellum times, as they were in the early days of California, are upon us. It is evident to the people that the Southern element in Nevada constitute the Wm. M. Stewart party. Through this element, without a doubt, he expected from the beginning to make a success of his canvass before the people, and a final success by being again returned to the senate. Stewart was short in his calculations before the people and failed to elect a legislature that would force his return to the senate, which was a great humiliation to a man of Stewart's stubborn and determined nature, but instead of learning from his defeat before the people that he had made a mistake in the line of his campaign, his unchangeable purpose of forcing himself upon the people without regard to methods continued, and Col. Chinn and his weapons are brought before the curtain by Stewart, who introduces them to his Nevada constituents, and it is understood that the Col. and his weapons are expected to do the work required for necessary intimidation of Nevada's legislature. The Col. in his opening to the people gave the names of Senators Daniels of Virginia, Blackburn of Kentucky and others as his workers, and by whose permission and request he had come to take a hand in the senatorial fight at Carson in the interest of Stewart. The men who conducted Stewart's campaign before the people are men (except the redoubtable C. C.) who claim nativity south of Mason and Dixon's line, which is all right. No fair minded man will question the right of Senator Stewart to select his friends and workers from where he may deem it proper to select them, but while he exercises the right to do as he may think for the best to effect his purpose to be returned to the Senate, other citizens of the State will not close their eyes upon his course, or fail to form opinions on the propriety of his selection of friends, or upon his intention, when his selections are made. If tradition can be trusted, the devil has never entered a church—disguised however well—without being seen by some straight-laced member, and Senator Stewart should not expect to be returned to the Senate without being discovered in his special work by some watchful eye.

It is well understood that the Southern Pacific has needs for the votes of all southern members it can control for the accomplishment of its business before Congress, and it is also understood and expected that Senator Stewart will influence the votes of many southern members in the interest of the company, but it is surely anything but good judgment, not to say bad politics, for the company to show its hand at this time, and no excuse seems to justify the mistake, except it may be the excuse that the knife and gun element from the south is the only element that could be had to do the work in hand in Nevada.

It is to be regretted by all good citizens that a seeming necessity has arisen in Nevada for Senator Stewart to call to his aid knife and pistol men, that so forcibly present to the minds of some of our best citizens the ante-bellum fights in the State of California. Such reminders will, in the end, do much harm, and at present, do no good. The better part of our citizens who are natives of the south, or who are of southern lineage, will regret the course pursued by Stewart and the Southern Pacific Company.

Good men, come from where they may, will not approve of the course of action tending to beget anew a hostile feeling that should have slept the sleep of oblivion.

Closing out sale of capes, jackets and carpets at Emerich's; above articles will positively be sold out, regardless of cost, and anyone in need of these goods will do exceptionally well and save money.

Reads's Eccentric English.

Reads's use of the English language, too, was eccentric, not to say ludicrous. In "A Simpleton," when he wished to signify that two people turned their backs on each other in a fit of temper, he wrote, "They showed napes." Describing the complexion of the New Haven fishwives in "Christie Johnstone," he says, "It is a race of women that the northern sun peaches instead of rosewoodizing." In "Readiana" he describes a gentleman giving a lunch to two ladies at a railway restaurant as follows: "He souped them, he tough chickened them, he brandied and oohinealed one, and he brandied and burnt sugared the other" (brandy and cochineal and brandy and burnt sugar being Reads's euphemisms for port and sherry respectively). While he was preparing his series of articles on Old Testament characters he read what he had written to John Coleman on one occasion and came to this startling passage in his argument:

"Having now arrived at this conclusion, we must go the whole hog or none."

Coleman objected to this phrase. "You don't like the hog, I see," said Reads. "Well, it's a strong figure of speech and it's understood of the people; but—yes, you are right. It's scarcely Scriptural. So out it goes."

Gentleman's Magazine.
